Code Enforcement Guide

On March 24th at the Board of Trustee meeting Simone Peterson from Neighborhood Services attended and handed out swag (stuff we all get). One of the items was the Citizen's Code Enforcement Guide pamphlet. The first item in the guide was Home-Operated Businesses. It outlines a very brief description of what is allowed in our neighborhood. I viewed the County web site and spoke to County personnel and came up with the following list of allowable businesses.

1. Artists and sculptors.
2. Authors and composers.
3. Dressmakers, seamstresses and tailors.
4. Daycare homes.
5. Home crafts, such as model making, rug weaving, lapidary work, and ceramics.
6. Office facility for a minister, rabbi, priest, or other similar person associated with a religious organization.
7. Office facility for a salesman, sales representative, or manufacturer's representative, provided that no retail or wholesale transactions are made on the premises.
8. Telephone answering services.
9. The renting of not more than one room for rooming or boarding for not more than one (1) person (who is not transient).
10. School of special education for groups not exceeding four (4) pupils at any given time.
11. Professional architect, engineer, planner, attorney, or other professional's office.

In discussions with Planning & Zoning personnel, parking was stressed as an issue. The following is from the County website.

7. Traffic, Parking. No traffic shall be generated by such home occupation in greater volume than would normally be expected in a residential neighborhood. Any need for parking generated by the conduct of such home occupation shall be provided on-site. Parking of commercial vehicles is subject to the provisions of the Code Ordinances.

So, there you have it, folks. Additional information can be found on the County web site (www.mymanatee.org/departments/building_development_services/code_enforcement) or by calling 941-749-3070.

A Tale From the Everglades Challenge Race

In case anyone is wondering what that overgrown grey kayak is doing in the kayak storage, it's not really a kayak but a small sailboat made out of kayak material. It's being marketed by Hobie as the simplest bombproof beginner sailboat in production. Christian Patrick, our local adventure race sailor, can attest to that. He just completed the eight day, 300 mile, unsupported, no motor, Everglades Challenge Race in it. He said that last year his boat was too big and complicated because one of the very few rules is that you must be able to start from above the high water mark on Fort DeSoto Beach in Tampa Bay. It took him and his crew all day to get the boat ready and into the water. This earned them the worst race result you can get, the "DNS", did not start. Well maybe "DSQ" could be arguably more disgraceful depending on why you were disqualified, and almost half of the 60 participants got the "DNF", did not finish result.

This year Christian was determined to be a "Finisher" so he got that little grey kayak looking sailboat on Craigslist and went for it alone. He said that the Hobie Bravo is a unique boat with the perfect mix of features for the race: it only needs 6 inches of water to sail and with asymmetrical hulls. It doesn't need any dagger boards to go upwind. Although it's slower than dagger board boats, Christian was able to sail through the widest range of shallow areas. This made it easier for him to navigate so he could focus more on sailing the boat and staying fed and dry. Christian capsized five times and broached three times but never pitch poled. His worse capsize happened sailing in the surf off the beach of Marco Island. The Bravo is easy to right because of the mast float at the top of the mast which keeps the boat from fully turtling.

After his fifth capsize, Chris decided he didn't need the mast float and removed it to improve his aerodynamic profile. Towards the end of the race his skills improved a lot as he's more of a cruiser sailor that likes sailing long distances over stopping. The Bravo was the smallest boat to finish the race.

Christian says that he prefers sailing in small boats because you're more in touch with nature that way. It's almost spiritual for him to be that close to danger putting his life in the hands of his skills and luck. He's already planning how to do better next year with a faster boat.

A couple of sailing terms

1. Dagger board – Used on smaller sailboats instead of a keel; it can be manually raised & lowered
2. Up wind – Sailing into the wind
3. Capsize – The boat turned over, putting the sail in the water
4. Broach – The sudden and hazardous pitching of a boat
5. Pitch Pole – What happens when a sailboat turns end over end
6. Turtle – The sailboat is upside down with the mast point to the bottom

Game Night sponsored by the Recreation Committee, will be held in the Recreation Hall on the 2nd Monday of the month from 7 pm to 9 pm starting May 10th. Contact Rose Woodruff at 941-753-0313 for more information

Manatee Matters with Commissioner Misty Servia

Note: This is from a press release from the Commissioner's office

Misty Servia has filed to run for re-election. In just under 2.5 years in office, 85% of Misty Servia's original 40-point campaign plan is either accomplished, or in progress.

She created the "Citizens Coalition on Growth" in her district in response to community members saying they felt they had no voice in growth issues. This group meets monthly, and Servia has brought their collective concerns and ideas to the board regularly.

Servia also led the charge for adoption of a massage parlor ordinance, allowing law enforcement to inspect facilities, making it easier to cite nuisance businesses who hide behind a shell company that contributes to human trafficking in our community.

Servia has been a fierce advocate for infrastructure improvements in District 4, one of the oldest areas of the county. She pressed for aggressive maintenance of our stormwater canals and ditches to help prevent the flooding experienced in 2017.

Servia is a major supporter of the county's code enforcement team and is credited with leading her Board colleagues to approve an additional position last year to add to the lean force of 13 officers, who oversee a population of more than 400,000.

As the coronavirus pandemic took hold in our community in early 2020, Servia partnered with a local business owner to host mask giveaways, delivering nearly 3,000 masks and hand sanitizer to residents when PPE was nearly impossible to find.

Servia took the lead on passing the Public Safety Ordinance in 2019, which helped to curtail panhandling by prohibiting interaction between pedestrians and people in vehicles, which has helped to improve safety along our roadways.

When asked why she is running for re-election, Servia said, "South county is the gateway to our beautiful community. There are many opportunities for protecting and improving our historic neighborhoods and enhancing our quality of life. I look forward to continuing my work on our county commission with a focus on funding new and replacement infrastructure, promoting good jobs, enhancing safety on our roadways, working to reduce homelessness, and improving our quality of life by protecting our natural resources. As a native Floridian, I understand that people come here to enjoy our beautiful beaches and Florida lifestyle, and I am committed to doing all that is possible to protect our greatest resources."

Misty Servia represents south county, District 4, and can be reached at misty.servia@mymanatee.org

Master Gardener

Sudden, Mysterious Dead Spots in the Lawn?

...could be caused by a number of fungal, cultural and insect problems. But consider that dogs, especially females who squat in the same place every time, can cause unconscious damage to turfgrass. If your or a neighbor's dog is fond of your turfgrass, a fresh water spray from the garden hose can help mitigate the issue. See: <https://sfyl.ifas.ufl.edu/lawn-and-garden/lawn-care-with-dogs/>

Black & Red Bugs!

Warm weather brings out several vividly red-and-black colored, largely benign bugs. Our three most common ones are milkweed bugs (black with a red-orange band that forms an "X"); the jadera bug (deep red markings on black) and the milkweed assassin bug, a long-legged imitation of the first bug above. In late summer, you may also see the box elder bug (resembles the jadera bug.) Info at: <http://entnemdept.ufl.edu/creatures/>

Air Plants are Not Bad!!

Many people call the Volunteer Plant Clinic suspecting that the presence of epiphytic plants, such as Spanish and ball moss, is harmful to their ornamental trees and shrubs. They are not parasites, just taking advantage of increased light conditions due to the normal decline in their host. Visit <https://edis.ifas.ufl.edu/ep485>
